Synaptics SecurePad Featured on High Performance Clevo Notebooks

Natural ID Biometric Authentication Integrated with TouchPad

SAN JOSE, Calif., Aug. 22, 2016 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Synaptics Incorporated (NASDAQ:SYNA), the leading developer of human interface solutions, today announced Clevo, a leading notebook manufacturer, is featuring Synaptics' SecurePad™ technology on its new high-performance notebooks, available now, and sold under several brands including Aftershock, Azom Systems, CJscope, Monster, and Sager. SecurePad delivers swift biometric authentication and integrates Synaptics' Natural ID™ fingerprint sensors directly into the TouchPad™ convenient to where fingers are naturally located.

"SecurePad delivers both the world class TouchPad and touch fingerprint sensor in a single module to Clevo's gaming product line. This allows for a clean industrial design and provides gamers with both advance TouchPad functionality and also provides a modern fingerprint sensor so that gamers can securely log into their notebook and can conveniently replace unsafe passwords by using their fingerprint for authentication," said Godfrey Cheng, vice president of marketing, Human Interface Systems Division, Synaptics. "By working with Clevo, Synaptics will bring to gamers the double benefit of improved security and improved convenience."
